

starting the day

when you get out of bed in the morning

(whether by skirmishing, leaping into the air or throwing yourself on the floor)

you have to decide, there and then, whether you want to live or to die